

DVD's

Non-Sales Professional's Guide to Selling Club Services/Products

Non-Sales Professional's Guide to Selling Club Services and Products reviews the importance of sales and every health/fitness club employee's role in it. The DVD examines some of the negative attitudes that staff might have about "selling" and outlines a series of simple steps that every club employee can take to contribute to the sale of a club's services and products. The DVD also features an overview of the key factors involved in relationship selling.

click here to purchase

Fitness Management

Featuring two extended play DVDs, this monumental resource for the health/fitness club industry includes over twelve hours of state-of-the-art programming in sixteen easy-to-navigate modules covering virtually every aspect of the health/fitness club industry.

click here to purchase

Functional Flexibility DVD

Functional Flexibility examines the role that flexibility plays in helping individuals effectively and safely perform activities of daily living and provides an in-depth overview of the key principles involved in prescribing, facilitating, and performing functional flexibility movements. Featuring two separate video programs—Functional Flexibility Training: Understanding the Basics and Functional Flexibility Training: Applying the Basics, the DVD also includes specific flexibility exercises for each of the major regions of the body.

click here to purchase

Key Characteristics of Great Clubs

The Key Characteristics of Great Clubs presents an enlightening and compelling look at the characteristics that all great global health/fitness clubs possess. The DVD highlights several "benchmarks" that can be used to establish a framework for greatness in the health-/fitness-club industry. Using these benchmarks as the framework for greatness, the DVD proceeds to discuss the various attributes that are common to those clubs that have achieved greatness.

click here to purchase

Transitioning from Trainer to Manager

Transitioning from Trainer to Manager presents an insightful overview of how a front-line fitness professional, such as a personal trainer, can develop the skills and attributes necessary to become a manager/supervisor in the health/fitness club industry. The five stages of development in a health/fitness professional's journey to becoming a manager are examined. The DVD then highlights how to create and execute a career development plan. Finally, the DVD details the 20 essential attributes and skills that a health/fitness professional will need to be successful in management.

click here to purchase